By WALTER M. BARRETT

After 42 years in the community, during which time he has given unselfishly of his efforts for progress, C. B. White, local branch manager for the Bank of America, has been asked to retire because he has reached an age where men are best qualified to give counsel and act in important decisions. We feel that the communities of Truckee and Lake Tahoe are losing a valuable friend and that neither the district nor the bank will be benefitted by his retirement. We sincerely regret the rule which will deprive the region of the services of Mr. White.

There were those who shook their heads in doubt when the winter sports here were turned over to the present youthful managers, but the boys have thus far proven that it was not an unwise move and success has marked their efforts. This success has only been achieved through hard work and through the cooperation of invaluable assistance from others. We offer them our best wishes for continued success.

At Lake Tahoe, too, willing workers are progressing with plans for a gala winter season and with the acquisition of a more accessible ski hill which is being prepared by clubsters at Tahoe City, and with a spirit of willing cooperation prevailing, there can be nothing to mar the bright prospects. Winter sport enthusiasts still find in Tahoe and Truckee a perfect winter wonderland and a place to enjoy all that winter sports means.

Our congratulations to the Parent Teachers and other local organizations which made possible the big community Christmas party last week. The fete justified the large attendance.

Truckee merchants report the largest holiday trade in history—truly a remarkable report—but one which should give us even more confidence in the future of the region. The year just closing marked the biggest deposit year the bank here has ever known—still another good omen. It remains for us only to keep the ball rolling and this great recreational center cannot be stopped in its certain advancement during the new year.

The Lions Club is sparing no effort to make the New Years eve dance at Masonic Hall a big success. You are urged to participate and enjoy the festive time planned for your pleasure.

To each of you, we extend our best wishes for a happy and prosperous New Year.

GREGORY LEADING MRS. MOSS FOR POST IN PLACER COUNTY

AUBURN—With the recount of the votes cast at the general election in Placer County last Nov. 8th for superintendent of schools two thirds completed late Wednesday, Elwyn H. Gregory was leading Portia Moss, the incumbent, by 15 votes. The count has been under way since Tuesday morning with Judge A. F. Bray of Contra Costa County presiding over the tabulation.

Gregory today had at the 3 p.m. tabulation overcome a vote lead of 22 held by Mrs. Moss when the count commenced yesterday morning. Nearly one-half the votes or slightly more than 5500, had been counted in Tuesday's proceedings and the count ran fairly even until Alta Vista, an Auburn precinct, was reached, here the leader picked up a large number of votes due to errors made by the election board.

The recount was held after the two received an equal number of votes for the office at the general election.

As this is written the final results are probably known although no word was available by the Sun's deadline.

EFFORTS TO BE MADE TO KEEP NEVADA CITY ROAD OPENED

Efforts will be made by the State Highway Department to keep the Tahoe-Ukiah Road between Nevada City and U. S. No. 40 near Emigrant Gap open throughout the winter, according to the Touring Department of the National Automobile Club. In the event of unusually heavy storms, and the temporary closing of the highway, plows will open the road as soon as possible after the storm has ceased.

Ice Bowl Opens For Local Season With Big Crowd

Parties Being Planned For Truckee During Snow Season

ICE IS REPORTED GOOD

Improvements Contemplated By Managers For Local Sports

Enthusiastic crowds, both local and from far away places, are flocking to Truckee's Ice Bowl, opened here Christmas Eve, after weeks of preparation by the managers, Earl Edmunds and Stan Gregory, who are operating the Winter Sports this season for the Truckee Outing Club.

Although the ice in the huge bowl was rough in spots at the opening, this condition has been remedied and the rink is declared to be in fine condition. No snow has fallen to mar the smooth surface and nightly application of water sprayed on the rink makes it harder and more even.

Several parties from San Francisco, Oakland and Sacramento visited the rink over the Christmas holidays and promised to return when it is possible.

Gregory and Edmunds report a volume of inquiries from the bay and valley cities, indicating that large parties are being arranged to participate in the sports here. The annual Oakland Tribune snow excursion to Truckee is being planned for the early part of February and the San Francisco Shriners are due here about the same time. Several other groups have written signifying their intention of coming to Truckee for the winter sports.

While Winter Sports here have been given up as a community program, it is indicated that they will meet with a large degree of success under the present sponsorship. Extensive improvements are being planned by the managers providing the support to which they are entitled is forthcoming.

GRAND JURY MEETS TO INDICT DRIVER OF LOCAL DEATH CAR

Members of the Nevada County Grand Jury, meeting Tuesday, after a recess, returned an indictment against Walter J. Fiebig, of Boca, charging him with negligent homicide, according to District Attorney Vernon Stoll, who asked the indictment.

Fiebig, it was charged, ran down and killed James C. Davidson, of Salt Lake City on October 30, on the Truckee-Reno highway, when Davidson stopped to change a tire.

Testimony before a coroner's jury following the accident, showed that Davidson was standing at the rear of the truck with a flashlight, warning oncoming vehicles in the darkness. Davidson's companion, who was uninjured and highway patrolmen who investigated the crash, said that flares were also lighted to warn other vehicles. Fiebig said he did not see the truck nor the warning lights.

William Englehart of Truckee and Oscar Jones of Soda Springs were members of the grand jury.

To Washington—

Congressman and Mrs. Harry L. Englebright left Tuesday from Nevada City for Washington D. C., where Englebright will resume his duties in the house of representatives.

The next Chamber of Commerce meeting will be held at the California restaurant on January 9, the two meetings during the holiday week having been postponed.

Leave for Europe—

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Zorich left this week for New York where they will board a boat for Europe on a vacation jaunt. They have closed the Good fellows restaurant during their absence with a word of appreciation for the patronage and urging patrons to visit them there during April when they plan to return to Truckee.

Relief Cases In County Gaining, Report Indicates

137 Indigents Among Those On Relief Rolls In County

The total number of persons on state and county relief in Nevada County during October was 649. This was an increase of 58 from the 591 relief participants in January, 1938, according to a comparison of the numbers of persons receiving relief in California counties, recently made public by California Taxpayers Association.

In the county in October there was a total of 550 persons receiving aid to aged, blind or orphans, an increase over the 454 persons receiving these aids in January. The number of indigents on the county relief rolls was 99 in October and 137 in January, the association stated.

Only twenty California counties reported decreases in the number of persons receiving relief when January and October.

For the state as a whole, the number of persons receiving relief went from 223,674 in January to 239,937 in October. The number receiving aged, blind or orphan aid went from 136,915 in January to 164,760 in October; while those receiving indigent aid numbered 86,759 in January and 75,177 in October, it was found.

Program Presented For Christmas At Community Affair

Success Marks Presentation Of Yule Party At School Here

The community Christmas party held at the grammar school auditorium last Thursday was a decided success and undoubtedly will become an annual event to be anticipated by young and old, as it was evidenced by the well filled hall.

The entertainment program as announced last week was enjoyed thoroughly and the added skit by Frank Gaiennie, John Petite, William Englehart, Sr., Benjamin Tonini and William Englehart, Jr., added merriment to the evening.

Santa Claus was in a festive mood and won the admiration of the tots who with the students of both the schools were remembered with gifts, personalized by the name of each recipient being placed on each.

Local organizations were responsible for the available funds and the committee, with Mrs. William Englehart, Jr., as chairman, filled Christmas baskets for worthy needy persons with the money left over after the expenses of the evening were defrayed.

The new blue and gold license plates for 1939 have arrived at the Truckee checking station and will be available to local motorists after January 3, Chief Clerk Carl Smith announced this week. Cards giving car owners the amount of the fees, were received this week.

The renewal period will extend from January 3 to February 4 and after that date motorists will be required to pay a 50 per cent increase.

465 Deer Legally Killed In Nevada County In 1938

J. S. Hunter, chief of the Bureau of Game Conservation, Division of Fish and Game, announced recently that deer hunters in California bagged 35,039 deer legally, according to the United Press. This was approximately 3,000 more than were killed in 1937 and the largest deer take since the deer tag law went into effect in 1927.

In Nevada County, 465 deer were killed to tie the high mark set last year when the same number were legally tagged, the report said. The average kill for 1927-28 was 207 in this county.

Naturally, the report could not include the number illegally slain because of the lack of enforcement officers in the Truckee area, but it is safe to assume that the number, had this been available, would have been far greater.

15 BLIND PERSONS IN NEVADA COUNTY RECEIVE STATE AID

SACRAMENTO —(UP)— Federal and state assistance to the blind in California totaled $290,678.54 for 6066 individuals in November, 1938. Mrs. Florence Turner, Director of the State Department of Social Welfare, announced. The average payment was $47.92, compared to $47.93 in October. In Nevada County, 15 blind persons received total aid of $645, with the payments averaging $43.

$10,577 TO BE USED ON ROADS IN TAHOE NATIONAL FOREST

California counties this week received $152,843 from the U. S. Forest Service to be used for road construction and schools, according to C. E. Rachford, acting chief of the service, in a letter to Gov. Frank Merriam. State Forester M. B. Pratt said that the amount is the counties' shares, fixed on an acreage basis, from the sale of timber, rental of pasture and other sources of national forest revenue.

Among the apportionments for the forests was $10,577 for Tahoe National Forest, comprising Lassen, Nevada, Placer, Plumas, Sierra and Yuba counties.

Three Confess To Looting Of Homes At Lake

Produce Truckers Held For Robberies At Tahoe Summer Homes

Three men held in the county jail at Sacramento were taken to the Tahoe region Tuesday to designate the resorts and summer homes they confessed ransacking during the last two months.

The trio identified themselves as Jess Shyrock, 19, of Davis, John Raynolds, 21, and Paul McKeehan, 38, both of Sacramento.

Part of the loot of the burglaries, including silverware, rugs, blankets, a bicycle and a washing machine, were recovered from McKeehan's home Monday night.

Deputy sheriffs Harry Knoll and Joseph Lyons said the men transformed a summer produce trucking line into a "loot running business" during the winter.

The officers said the trio maintained a regular schedule with the truck, but in the place of legitimate cargo they hauled the furnishings they stole from the resorts and summer homes vacant during the winter. Sheriff George Smith of El Dorado County took the trio to the mountain resort area for additional investigation.

Bank Manager To Retire In Spring Of Coming Year

Charles White Scheduled To Leave Bank Under New Ruling

HERE FOR 42 YEARS

District May Lose Valuable Leader As Change Is Planned

Truckee and Lake Tahoe businessmen and other residents of this fast developing community will learn with regrets of the announcement made this week that Charles B. White, veteran banker and manager of the Truckee branch of the Bank of America, has been asked to retire by the personnel department of the bank, the action to become effective on June 2, 1939.

Mr. White came to Truckee 42 years ago as an employee of the Southern Pacific. Sixteen years ago he was instrumental in the establishment of a branch of the Auburn Savings Bank in Truckee and accepted the management of the new concern.

Success marked the venture and in 1929 the bank here was taken over by the Bank of America. Mr. White was naturally retained as manager, being familiar with local business developments and at all times keeping pace with the rapidly changing conditions in banking circles as well as business as a whole.

Since that time, Mr. White has devoted his efforts to the interests of the bank, but has not failed in his self-appointed duties as a community leader. He has been president of the Truckee Chamber of Commerce for several years, a position he has maintained with credit. He is also a director of the Truckee Public Utility District which he aided in forming in 1927 and which has proven itself an asset to the region. Mr. White has also been active in civic and fraternal work both here and at Lake Tahoe. Last year he was president of the Truckee Outing Club and holds offices of importance in various other groups devoted to the welfare of the entire area served by his bank.

Mr. White's familiarity with business and social conditions of the Truckee-Lake Tahoe region and his manifest interest in the development of the area give him the principal attributes necessary for the position which he has held so faithfully.

Mr. White said that he has made no plans for the future, but inasmuch as his home and interests are in this community he hopes to remain here if possible.

NEW PASTOR HERE TO OCCUPY LOCAL PULPIT ON SUNDAY

Rev. G. L. Keech arrived Wednesday from Yuba City to become the minister of the local Methodist church and will occupy the pulpit for the first time on Sunday, January 1, when he will deliver a sermon at 11 o'clock.

Mrs. Keech and their three children of grammar and high school age, accompanied Rev. Keech and the family are occupying the parsonage.

LIONS COMPLETE DANCE PLAN HERE

The meeting of the Lions Club was adjourned early last night so that members of the club could complete plans for the big carnival dance to be held at Masonic hall Saturday night. The hall is nicely decorated and all is in readiness for the annual party.

With one of the few dark Christmases ever recorded here gone, it now appears that New Years Day will also be without snow. While the news will not be greeted with much favor by winter sports fans, skiing is available at Lake Tahoe and Norden and the ice pond here is in excellent condition.

ORDAINED TO LIVE

by P. O. Davis, Alabama Extension Service

From the beginning we have been taught that institutions, agencies, and doctrines which merit permanency are allowed to live; and that, on the other hand, those things which are useless or unworthy of life must die and disappear.

As we ourselves live and think and study and observe we see that this doctrine is true. Because it is true, it, too, is allowed to endure and to guide us in our procedure. It is a light that guides—a truth that sustains. With it we can label the things upon which we can depend and recognize the doctrines upon which we can rely.

To me an example of this is the press—daily, weekly, or monthly. Since it is a human institution we admit its imperfections but we recognize its qualities which endure. It has a place in the hearts and lives of human beings which nothing else can take.

And as I meditate upon the press my thoughts always turn to the weekly newspapers which I first knew as a farmer boy and for which I wrote my first lines that appeared in print. From that good to this I have held them in the highest esteem for what they really are and for what they mean to their readers.

I have not done this because of my friendship for them nor their friendship for me but because the weekly press, as one member of that great family of the press, is an institution which was born to live and grow and serve. First in the hearts and lives of millions of people who live close to nature and to things both spiritual and material, the weekly press is an essential institution that has been ordained to live.

A VERY HAPPY NEW YEAR

America prepares a rousing exit for 1938 and extends a loud hail of welcome to the newcomer 1939, a fledgling year, untried, unknown.

With natural anticipation, we eagerly wonder, "What will 1939 bring?" But might we not, with profit, also ask, "What will we bring to 1939?"

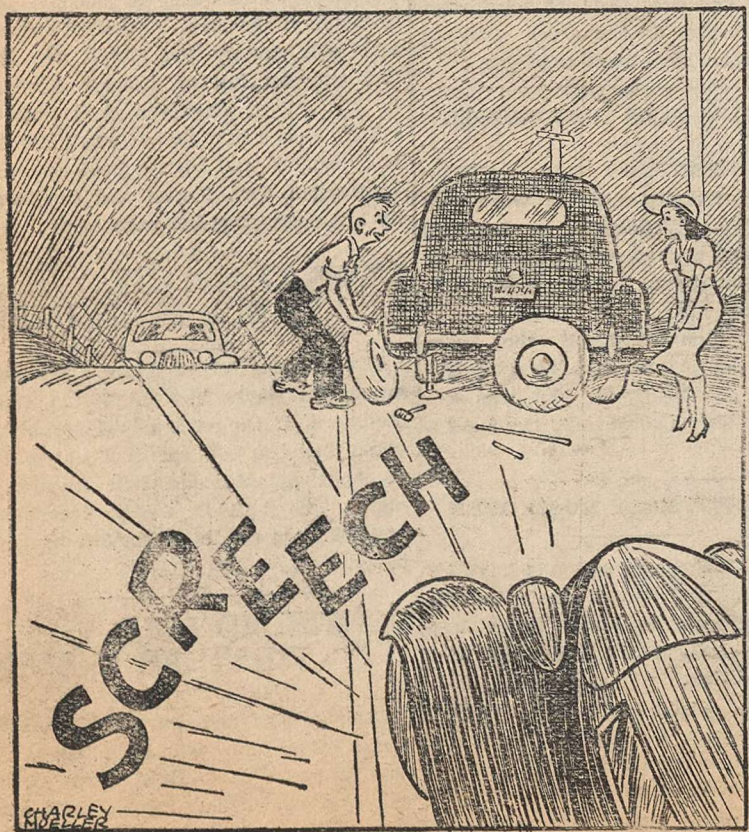

Will we greet it with courage and firmly-grounded faith, determined to make truly it a happy new year, or will we casually accept this precious gift of time and do nothing with it? Will we refuse to lose faith in the democratic way of life despite the preachers of hate on other shores who work ceaselessly to weaken our loyalty to that way of life? To our daily work will we bring the conviction that our job, great or humble, is worth doing well, can be done better and must be so done? And will we bring enough grit, enough will-power, to make just one of those New Year's resolutions come true? More frankly, will we have sense to choose one that stands some chance of fulfillment?

Old Father Time gives into our keeping a fresh starting point, and a gift of days capable of unfolding new happiness and new successes for us as individuals and a nation. For these reasons we welcome the fledgling stranger, and voice the most sincere wish, "A Happy New Year to Everyone!"

"Swat business!" With that admonition—or words to that effect—charting their course of activity, a new lobby, representing the State Executive Committee of Young Democrats, is making ready to invade the legislative halls at Sacramento. The lobby of Young Democrats was formed at the suggestion of Lieutenant Governor-elect Ellis E. Patterson, who berated business lobbyists and called on the youthful Bourbons to organize a counter "pressure group" to influence the passage of bills and "pressure" the adoption of their legislative program. The pertinent question of the 1939 session apparently will be: "Who's got the most pressure?"

Even Culbert L. Olson chuckled a few days ago when Gene Desimone, up and coming young political radio commentator, told his listeners that the favorite dish at Mr. Olson's gubernatorial barbecue would be "barbecued bull." But despite the puns, the inaugural barbecue idea has caught on and promises to become an established custom, even rivaling the great inaugural ball.

THE GENERAL WHO WANTED PEACE

IN ALMOST every town of South America the visitor will find, in the center of a sunny plaza, a statue of Simon Bolivar. The one above is in the main square of Caracas, birthplace of Bolivar—a charming Latin American city much favored by tourists making the weekly 16-day cruises to the Caribbean. The statue shown above was made in France at the close of the last century, and the ship which was bringing it to South America was sunk off the coast of Venezuela, so the statue spent many months beneath the sea before it was salvaged and taken to Caracas.

On the pedestal is the following inscription: "Simon Bolivar—Liberator of Venezuela, Nueva Granada (present-day Colombia) Ecuador and Peru and founder of Bolivia." General Bolivar led the revolt of the South American colonies against Spain and fought for twenty years until, early in the nineteenth century, they had achieved their independence. To the modern mind one of the most admirable traits of this remarkable man was his ever-present love for peace. In the midst of campaigns during which he fought hundreds of battles, he found time in which to formulate plans for the promulgation of peace once victory had been won. He was a visionary whose dreams included visions of a league of American republics and a court of justice to settle international disputes through arbitration. Today, some of the dreams of this general who wanted peace—such as the proposed American League of Nations—seem to be coming true, others are still in the distant future.

Tahoe Ramblings

(By SWANEE)

Mrs. Stella Watson left last Friday to spend Christmas with her daughter and son in lay, Mr. and Mrs. George Collins.

Miss Mary Pronzato, high school teacher at Tahoe, went to Fort Bragg to enjoy the holidays with her parent. Later she will motor to Los Angeles to visit her brother and then return to Sacramento where she will represent the Tahoe Ski Club in the Winter Sports Carnival queen contest.

Miss Jean Wehrman of Winters will be the house guest of the A.M. Henry family here this week.

Mr. and Mrs. James Ferguson of Sunnyside spent the Christmas holidays with friends in Stockton this year.

Miss Harriett Seabright, San Francisco teacher, and Miss Georgia Reed are enjoying the week with the former's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Worden of Ward Creek.

Tahoe's level Monday stood 6226.91 with 367 CSF of water leaving the gates.

Albert Droll, his three sons and wife, formerly of Oakland are the latest newcomers to settle in Tahoe City for the winter, Mr. Droll being employed on the highway.

Tahoe's Jim Worden, Carl Bechdolt, Jr., and Jack Starratt Anderson were greatly disappointed this week when lack of snow at Sun Valley, Idaho, made abandonment of their competition in the Intercollegiate Ski Meet there advisable. According to reports received here Monday there is no snow in the vicinity of any of the upskis. The meet, if held, will take place some 15 miles distant from the ski lodge in the higher mountains where some snow remains but the trip to the site would appear a bit disconcerting even to seasoned skiers.

Sig Ulland has received and anticipates accepting, an invitation from the Big Pines Southern California Ski Club to attend their first F. I. S. Invitational tournament of the season on January 28 and 29, weather permitting. Only Class A jumpers will participate.

The ski tow being installed on Tahoe's new ski hill is fast nearing completion, according to club officials. Great strides have been made in recent weeks in clearing the hill and completing skiing facilities. While some snow still lingers in patches in the lowlands, much ground is completely bare.

Good skiing can be found most anywhere along the highway a distance one half mile back or more. Snow is anticipated here soon.

Plans For New School At King's Beach Progress As Supervisors Set Hearing

KING'S BEACH, Dec. 29.—Next Tuesday residents of the Brockway district will meet with the Board of Supervisors in Auburn for a hearing on their petition asking for an elementary school here.

Joe King is reported to have offered a site of 10 lots, two blocks north of the highway near the business section, and labor, material and money have been promised by merchants and residents in advance if the proposition passes the supervisors. Andy Johnson, local civic leader, said that the school could be ready for classes by Fall of 1939. He estimated that 40 children would be affected by the change. No request for a high school has been made, the eligible students to keep attending the Tahoe City school.

Tahoe School's Christmas Program Is Pronounced As Success; Classes in Recess

TAHOE CITY, Dec. 29.—The local school auditorium last Thursday was filled to capacity as the combined classes presented the closing school Christmas program. Success of the affair was due to Mrs. Myrtle Gallinger, principal of the elementary grades, Mrs. Bliss Hinkle, principal of the high school, Miss Alta Dyer and Miss Mary Pronzato, instructors, Mrs. Sadie Reeves and Mrs. Emma Wallace, who prepared the costumes, and Mrs. Irene Mason Edwards, who assisted in choral direction and who accompanied the performers on the piano.

The Tahoe Lake Orchestra, under the direction of Otto Fox, rendered several appropriate selections and members of the band accompanied the performers from time to time.

The performance showed the favorable effect of six weeks of intensive rehearsal. Christmas carols were sung by the groups and audience and candy and nuts, donated by local merchants were distributed at the close of the affair.

Mrs. Portia Moss of Auburn introduced the speaker of the evening, Tahoe's own Professor Henry Hinkle who spoke briefly, interestingly and authoritatively on the purposes and present day programs of our schools.

I was one of the finest entertainments ever produced by the local institution and received praise on all sides.

CAPITOL WEEK

by Newton Stearns
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 29 —(UP)—Members of the official family of Governor Frank F. Merriam joined with him in celebration of the governor's 73rd birthday. About 100 were in attendance.

GOVERNOR F. F. MERRIAM

Earlier in the day, the governor told the press that he had no plans for the coming year after he leaves office January 2. He parried all questions regarding future political ambition. In answer to one question as to whether he considered seeking a United States Senate seat in 1940, Governor Merriam said: "It would be nice to be a United States Senator, or even President."

The State Senate lost a prominent member when State Senator John McColl, Republican, who had served the fifth district since 1932, died last week. He was an important figure in Northern California politics, particularly in reference to the Central Valley Water Project. He battled for construction of the giant Shasta Dam, near Redding, both in Sacramento and Washington, and was given much of the credit for putting the project over.

Governor Merriam declared McColl was almost single handedly responsible for the action of the 1933 legislature in submitting the Water Project Constitutional Amendment to the people and helped found the State Water Plan Association.

Funeral services for McColl were held in the Masonic Temple at Redding. Burial was in Sacramento.

McColl's death may cause a change in the State Senate lineup. The Republicans now hold a small majority in the upper house, but the Democrats are far ahead in registration in Shasta and Trinity counties. McColl's home district, Successor to McColl will be chosen at a special election to be called by Governor Merriam.

The question of paying fees to Walker and Eisen, Los Angeles architects, for their work in preparing plans for the New Chino prison in San Bernardino County bobbed up again when Superior Judge Peter J. Shields issued a restraining order prohibiting the state from paying the firm $88,826 or any other amount. A hearing on a permanent injunction was set for SACRAMENTO, Dec. 23.—(UP)—Christmas and New Years are occasions of happiness and fun for most persons but it means only the beginning of a grueling six months for the 120 members of the legislature, a small army of newspapermen, legislative attaches and the state government generally.

Governor-elect Culbert L. Olson returned to the capitol soon after Christmas and the wheels began turning faster. And out in city and hamlet, legislators turned from stuffing stockings and stomachs to cramming bills into briefcases to present after January 2.

The stack of bills to be tossed into the legislative hopper during the 31 day first session promises to be staggering. The United Press conducted a poll of both houses and a usual evehwone has his own quota of pet propositions to get something for his own district or "benefit the entire state."

Democrats are stronger than ever before, thanks to the election of Governor Olson and Lieutenant Governor Ellis Patterson. But their attempts to push through their platform legislation will bring a stiff fight, chiefly in the senate, where the Republicans hold a slight margin.

Olson will be able to accomplish many of his objectives without recourse in legislation. It is generally

December 30.

The architects' fee has been a prominent subject at the Capitol. Governor-elect Culbert Olson has said that he probably would not approve the fee, contending that the work could have been done by state architects.

Rumor has had it that the appointment of the Los Angeles firm to draw up the plans was the result of federal pressure brought before the government furnished funds for the project but Governor Merriam denied the appointment was dictated by federal officials.

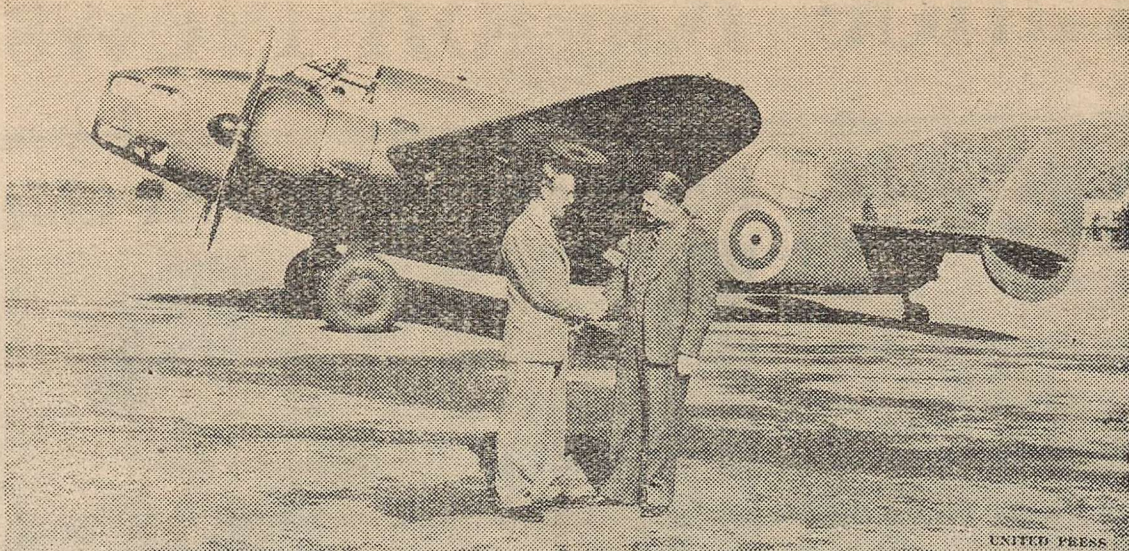

The State Department of Motor Vehicles mailed out notices listing the registration and licensing fees for 1939 to 2,500,000 motorists. The notifications carried the amount of "in lieu" tax assessed each machine in addition to the regular state license fee of $3 for passenger cars.

The registration period has been set for January 3 to February 4, after which penalties of 100 per cent of the registration fee and 50 per cent of the in lieu tax will be imposed on delinquents.

H. Dewey Anderson, who becomes State Relief Administrator on January 2, said that continued reduction of California's WPA employees may require an emergency relief appropriation by the Legislature far in excess of $19,600,000 already proposed.

Anderson said that he was informed that approximately 5,000 persons have been cut from WPA rolls during the past week. These workers, he said, will be returned for the most part to state relief. He added that plans of the incoming Democratic administration for handling the relief situation will be ready for consideration by Olson when he arrives in Sacramento this week.

First of 200 U. S.-Built Bombers for Britain

Squadron Leader James Addams of the British Air Ministry in charge of a 21-million-dollar, 200-plane order from the Lockheed Aircraft Corp. at Burbank, Cal., and C. L. Johnson, Lockheed engineer, inspect the first plane of the huge order to be completed. This B-24 model may have a top speed in excess of 300 m. p. h., it was believed.

Bride Collector.

Larry Burke had fair to establish a record of some sort in bride collecting, except that San Jose, Calif., police stepped in when he had gathered three wives. Now Larry faces bigamy charges. Officers found Burke living happily with two of his brides, the former Lillian Olivera, left, and Evelyn Hopping, both 18. Burke "thinks" wife No. 1, who lives in another state, has never obtained a divorce from him.

believed. Two-score years of Republican administration have gradually expanded the powers of commissions and executives, which Olson inherits. Such social changes as his self-help cooperatives can very likely be put into effect by executive order. Another weapon Olson can use is legislators. Naacel etain etain etain the calling of special sessions. Legislators dislike paying their own train fare to Sacramento and it's hard to duck a definite vote when the whole state is watching action on a few specified measures.

Probably the first fight of any consequence will be on the power the senate will give Patterson. He can be stripped of his committee appointing duties if the senate sticks by a resolution passed at the special session in March.

Another important action will be a request for some $20,000,000 to finance unemployment relief activities for the rest of the fiscal year. Present funds will run out in the middle of January. The increasing reduction in WPA personnel throughout California is adding to the state relief load to the point where Olson may have to set up about $70,000,000 in his budget. Such an amount would include the money to start his cooperatives, it is believed.

Olson has his pension worries too, for a big batch of pension legislation is in the offing. Matters aren't helped by any reports of a pension march on the capitol inauguration day.

Sentiment favors some changes in the Unemployment Reserves Act, possibly lowering or elimination of employee contributions, and speeding up the process of paying benefits.

Taxes will come up for severe scrutiny, for new revenues may be needed to swing the budget requirements. Sales tax changes have been suggested, as have severance taxes. The gasoline tax of three cents appears safe from change.

The labor question is an interesting one for many reasons. Olson has already appointed George Kidwell, veteran AFL San Francisco labor leader, as his Director of Industrial Relations and has championed labor for many years. Some legislation as the wages-hours law and "Little Wagner Act" will receive favorable consideration, particularly in the Assembly. Many legislators favored the suggestion that Olson form a mediation service for labor disputes.

Southern State Senator Goes To Sessions in Ox Cart

HEROD, Ga., Dec. 23 —(UP)—State Senator James L. Mass Friday ordered his Negro driver to get started for Atlanta as they couldn't afford to waste much time if they wanted to arrive for the opening of the state legislature a week hence. Mass was traveling the pioneer way, in an ox cart, "so I could see the scenery and talk to people when I feel like it."

AGGREGATE TAXES IN CALIFORNIA RISE 90% IN FIVE YEARS

Tax collections in California by Federal, state and local governments have nearly doubled since 1933, according to a study recently completed by California Taxpayers' Association. In 1933, government took from Californians in taxes $449,410,504. Five years later, in the year ending June 30, 1938, tax collections by these same governments in California totalled over $854,000,000.

During this period Federal collections increased from $84,674,184 to $315,570,028, state collections from $90,879,770 to $240,507,947 and local property tax collections from $263,856,550 to an estimated $298,000,000, the association stated.

Total tax collections for the three levels of government increased by 90 per cent the association found. Federal tax collections showed an increase of 233 per cent, and state 165 per cent. Local property taxes increased 13 per cent, even with the relief to local property from the full operation of the Riley-Stewart tax plan, the association stated.

Justus Wardell, former Democratic nominee for governor of California, candidate for U. S. Senator and a delegate to several national conventions, said that every indication in Washington, D. C., pointed to the fact that the President is grooming acting Secretary of Commerce Harry Hopkins of Iowa as his successor in the White House. Wardell has been in the Capitol of the Nation acting as receiver for several defunct banks of the district. He does not believe that Roosevelt will seek reelection for a third term.

ably will be passed again by both houses, with Olson leading a fight to enact such statutes. The Garrison Act passed both houses in 1937 and was signed by Gov. Frank Merriam but was defeated on referendum at the November 8 election.

Capital punishment will be another "hot subject" as a result of California's first lethal gas executions.

SKI NOTES

The American Red Cross, in cooperation with the National Ski Association, is launching a campaign to give First Aid training to the thousands of devotees of skiing and other winter sports. A. L. Schafer, Red Cross manager in the Pacific Area, announced this week.

California, Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Utah and Nevada chapters report that they are already under way with these special classes. Every person interested in winter sports is invited to take the instruction—the edia is to increase the joy of winter sports with safety instruction.

At the same time many Ski Clubs in the Pacific Area are organizing Ski Patrols, members of which will take both the Red Cross Standard and Advanced First Aid courses. The patrols will tranverse their own winter sports areas and will be trained to man emergency shelters or First Aid stations. Red Cross chapters are being asked to maintain caches of supplies at strategic points in the snow country.

Equipment suggestions include: Extra lashings and snowshoes, tourniquets, splints, blankets, tea, coffee, sugar, and a small heating unit for use in an emergency.

The Donner Winter Sports area should command major interest in the weekly snow sports broadcast just inaugurated by the Bureau of Agricultural Engineering and to extend until late March, 1939, in the opinion of DeWitt Nelson, Tahoe Forest Supervisor at Nevada City. The Tahoe Forest will cooperate this winter as they did last winter in furnishing the Bureau with up to date snow sports information about the Donner and other snow sports areas on the forest for use in the weekly broadcast over the Blue Network of NBC for 15 Friday evenings, commencing at 8:15.

With 135,000 snow sports enthusiasts visiting the Donner area last winter, and with snow sports equipment dealers reporting huge increases in sales to date over the entire sales of last season, it is not unreasonable to expect, said Nelson, that there will be at least 250,000 to 300,000 visitors to the area next winter. The Southern Pacific is constructing a temporary shelter at Norden to accommodate the expected traffic and plan on having the shelter for 600 with dining facilities.

Two new winter sports areas, between Westwood and Susanville, are to be opened this season, according to the National Automobile Club. One is located at Willards, 10 miles west of Susanville, and the other is at the Coopersville Ranger Station, 7 miles east of Westwood.

The Willard area will be for the beginners while the Coopersville area will be for more advanced skiers.

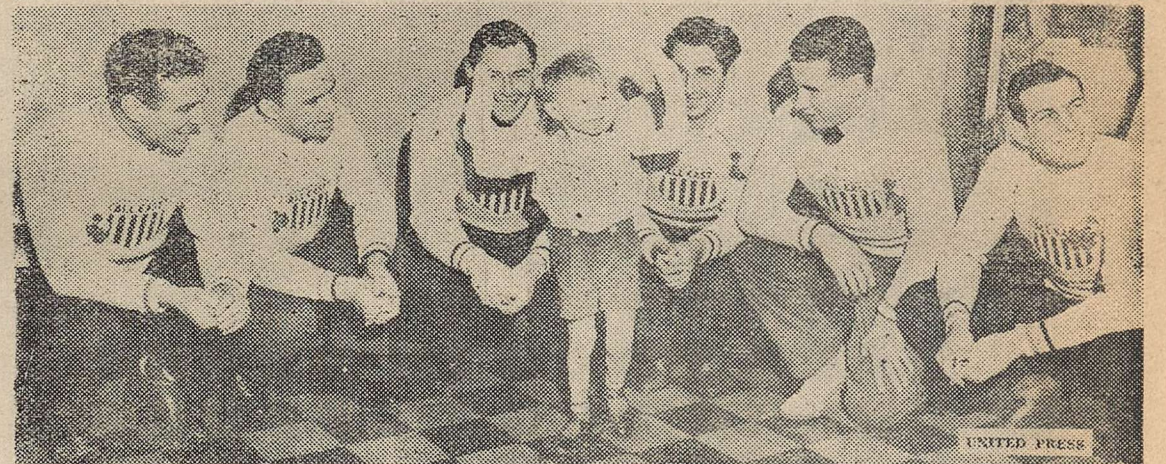

There is not a sufficient amount of snow in either Sequoia or General Grant National Park for snow sports but reports from the former park to the National Automobile Club give promise of excellent ice skating.

Fish & Game

BERKELEY, Dec. 29—Expressing concern over the fact that more and more of the lands along the Klamath river are being withdrawn from public fishing and other recreation through the building of private lodges and the issuance of mineral patents, a conference of farm and business leaders of Siskiyou County has recommended that a right of way for fishermen be reserved through all land to be withdrawn from public entry in the future. The meeting was one of a series of economic conferences called by leaders of various farm and business enterprises in various counties of the state to discuss current economic problems and the manner in which they should be handled. The county farm advisors and the Agricultural Extension Service of the University of California assist in the arrangements for the meetings.

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 29 —(UP)—J. S. Hunter, chief of the State Bureau of Game Conservation, reported scalps of 15 mountain lions turned in for bounty payment in November.

The total kill for the year to date he said is 238, or 30 more than were taken the same period of 1937. Five came from Tulare county, three from San Bernadino, two from Humboldt, one each from Monterey, San Diego, San Luis Obispo, Santa Barbara and Tehama.

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 29 —(UP)—The State Fish and Game Commission reported today that 14,000,000 fish, stranded by receding high waters, were rescued this year in the Central Valleys and returned to "live waters."

The rescued fish included black bass, crappie, sunfish, catfish, perch, striped bass, shad and a few salmon and trout.

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 29 —(UP)—The California Division of Fish and Game announced today that 10,000 ring-necked pheasants have been released from holding pens throughout the Sacramento and San Joaquin valleys.

The birds were released under the supervision of August Bade, chief of the Bureau of Game Bird Propagation.

California Leads

California is still leading the United States in gross volume of mortgages accepted for insurance by the Federal Housing Administration, according to latest figures from Washington by D. C. McGinness, director, Northern California district office of the FHA.

These figures show that 27,091 mortgages were accepted for issuance in California during the first ten months of the current year with a value of $115,496,275. New York came second with 9,377 mortgages with a value of $48,660,783.

The entire nation showed 123,745 for a value of $538,938,236.
